

As a member of the QUIN Youth Advisory Board for Substance Use Prevention, I pledge to:

- Use my voice to speak up for the healthy, safety, and well-being of youth in my community
- Respect the experiences and perspectives of others, knowing every story matters.
- Advocate for change by helping to shape programs, policies, and messages that reflect realities youth in my community face
- Learn and grow by seeking knowledge about substance use, mental health, and prevention strategies.
- Lead with integrity, compassion, and honesty in all my actions and decisions.
- Listen actively and communicate openly in a safe, inclusive space.
- Promote positive choices and support my peers in making informed, healthy decisions.
- Be a role model and a force for change in my school, community, and beyond by not using substances.

I understand that my participation matters and together, we can make a difference. If I do not show up for two meetings without notifying the overseer of the board, this will result in potential termination of my position on the board. Using substances or being caught using substances will also result in termination of my position effective immediately.
